

The Whale Museum's
Summer Lecture Series

Acoustic Communication of Southern Resident Killer Whales

Monika Wieland, Reed College

at The Whale Museum | 7 p.m. | Wednesday | August 22

details

Monika's talk "Acoustic Communication of Southern Resident Killer Whales" will discuss previous studies and what is known about acoustic communication in Southern Residents as well as her research on the use of the discrete calls that make up their vocal repertoires. Following the lecture, Wieland will be available to sign her new book "Orca Encounters."

The Whale Museum's Lecture Series is dedicated to providing our local community and visiting public with knowledge and wonder of the natural world. The lectures are given by local or visiting experts in their field. Join us as they share their recent research projects, stories, and experiences.

Each lecture is free but donations are greatly appreciated. The proceeds from your generous donations are crucial to our research and education efforts.

Next Lecture - August 29th, 7 p.m: Marla Holt

The Whale Museum is located in Friday Harbor at 62 First St. N.
